

Joining Fitzroy Basin Association

Why join FBA?

FBA has an outstanding reputation locally, across Queensland and nationally for developing and delivering effective and efficient programs that work with local community, stakeholders and investors to protect our Region’s natural assets. FBA is uniquely placed geographically, strategically and operationally to deliver priority environmental and agricultural outcomes.

FBA is the organisation that can bridge the gap between knowledge and action, and bring projects that combine environmental awareness, increased profitability and improved production to life.

FBA has the following membership* classifications

Members

Open to community and industry groups, incorporated associations, corporate bodies, local and state government entities with an interest in NRM that operate in the Fitzroy region. A nominated delegate must be selected to act as the representative and is entitled to one vote at Board elections. If the nominated delegate is unable to attend, a Proxy form must be completed by the nominated delegate to appoint a substitute delegate to act as Proxy.

Becoming a Member

We are the experts of our region. We translate complex information – explaining legislation, new technologies and changes in best practice in a way that becomes tangible, practical actions land managers and the community can do. We work with all parts of our community to implement evidence-based, accessible solutions. Our members provide a direct link to the community, and receive regular updates and access to networking opportunities, workshops, field days and events.

As a member you can help us empower our communities to maintain our natural assets for future generations and have a say on the future of our region.
